Project Gospel

This project is very special and brings great joy and blessing to be a part of. The purpose of this project is to bring magnificent honor and glory to the Kingdom of Heaven. It accomplishes this goal by providing a salary for a minister who is saving souls and spreading the Gospel message of Yahshua the Messiah (Jesus the Christ). It is a great honor to help pastor Arturo Gomez Hdz. from Picholco, Mexico. Arturo was the lead guitarist for the Catholic Church. One night a man that he had never seen before or since, came to him and told him he needed to get right with God.

It was at that moment he gave his life to the Savior. This decision got him kicked out of the Catholic Church and his own mother disowned him. She told him not to bother to come to her funeral. However, she also became a follower of the Savior, Yashua, and lives with Arturo. The Catholic Church continues to persecute his family by vandalizing his house constantly. Arturo prays for his tormenters and witnesses to them. He is married to Rosa and have four children: Renia, Rosalva, Arturo jr., and Sieda.

His Ministry

Arturo is the pastor of the church in Picholco, with a congregation of 80 people. He is also the Area Superintendent of the churches in Temalacaco, Ayopoxco, and Tamirando which is another 100-150 people. In addition he is just beginning a jail ministry in Tmazunchale.

He is known for his gifts of prophesy, visions, and special prayer services. His church in Picholco has music provided by trumpets, violins, guitars, and an accordion. The church seats are plastic lawn chairs. They love singing hymns such as 'Trust and Obey' and 'Holy, Holy, Holy'. Arturo must walk over ruff terrain to all his churches. One day he was given a very heavy box of Bibles to carry back tot he church and he replied, "The word of God is never heavy." The pulpit in Picholco was made by a boy in Salina, Kansas as a woodworking project. People walk as much as 45 minutes each week to hear pastor Arturo preach. His wife, Rosa, was healed by Yahweh of 2 tumors at one of his prayer services.
